

LSAPS (Latvian Small Animal Practitioners Section) within the framework of WSAVA CE project in Latvia is organising seminar in gastroenterology.

WSAVA
Continuing Education

Speaker:

Prof. Edward J. Hall

MA, Vet MB, PhD, DipECVIM-CA, MRCVS

European Specialist in Veterinary Internal Medicine

RCVS Specialist in Small Animal Medicine (Gastroenterology)

Editor-in-Chief, Veterinary Medicine and Science

School of Veterinary Sciences,

University of Bristol,

Langford House,

Langford,

Bristol BS40 5DU.

Topic:

“Gastroenterology without an endoscope.”

8:40 Registration

9:00 Opening. The address a seminar by the WSAVA CE sponsors

09.30 Diagnostic approach to GI disease

10.30 Diagnosis and management of megaesophagus

11.30 Coffee

12.00 Acute & haemorrhagic gastroenteritis

12.45 What is the value of stool culture?

13.30 Lunch

14.30 What's new in the diagnosis and treatment of acute pancreatitis?

15.00 Vomiting, haematemesis and GI bleeding

16.00 Tea

16.30 Inflammatory bowel disease: diet, antibiotics or steroids?

17.15 Food allergy

18.00 Close

Location: hotel “Bellevue Park Hotel Riga”, street Slokas 1, Riga, Latvia.

Date: on the 11th of December, 2016.

Participation fee:

WSAVA members 80 EUR;

WSAVA non members 100 EUR;

Vet.students 45 EUR.

Participation fee includes: lectures, materials for seminar in English, the certificate of attendance, parking place, the lunch and coffee/tea breaks.

Deadline for application to the seminar is the 27th of November, 2016.

THANKS to the WSAVA CE sponsors:

